Award Application
Diana Award™

Since 1995, the Diana Award—named for the huntress of Roman mythology—has honored the women of SCI whose international hunting achievements reflect exceptional skill, leadership, integrity, and a deep personal commitment to ethical hunting and conservation. Recipients don't just bring trophies home; they set the standard. They model impeccable ethics in the field, an unwavering commitment to SCI's missions, and give back through hands-on conservation and education work. The Diana Award celebrates not only marksmanship and courage, but stewardship and devotion—women who hunt hard and give harder. This award is sponsored by NRA Women's Leadership Forum. The application deadline is August 15 of each award year.
